Casino World drops appeal

Europa is second company to drop issue – for now

BY ED LEPOMA Staff Writer

Casino World has withdrawn its appeal of a federal court ruling requiring an environmental impact statement before it can build its proposed casino/resort complex on the north Bay of St.

Werlin Ladner, site manager for Europa Cruises Corp., confirmed company officials decided to drop the appeal.

"It could be two years before we get any kind of ruling," Ladner said. "We should be completed with Environmental Impact Statement (EIS)before then."

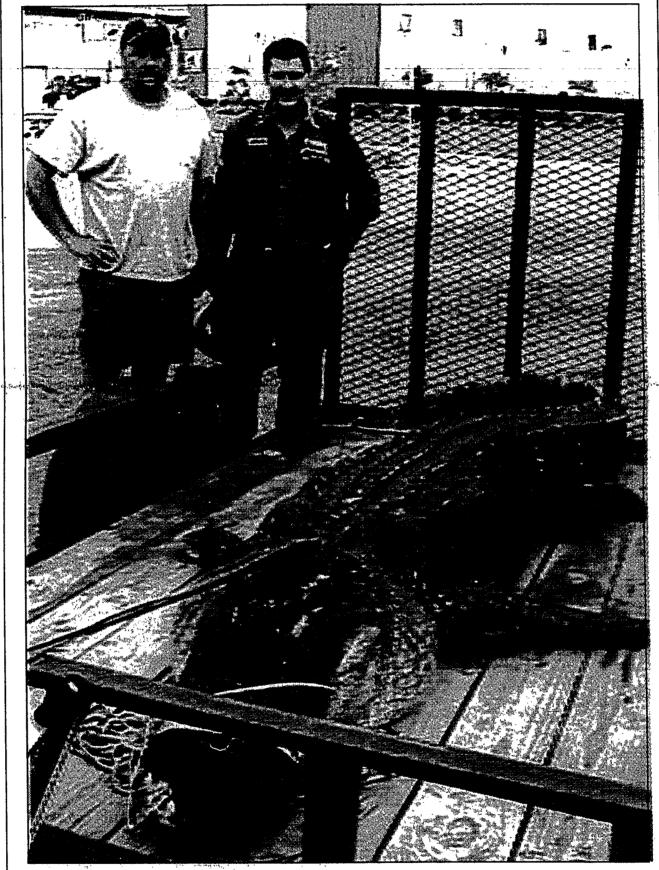

Last year, local opponents of two casinos proposed on the north Bay of St. Louis and another on the Bay of Biloxi in d'Iberville joined forces with the Earthjustice Legal Defense Fund to fight the developments. In August of 2000, a federal judge who ordered the U.S. Corps of Engineers to develop a comprehensive EIS, which would gauge the impact of casino and other large-scale development that has taken place on the coast, and the potential impact the three proposed casinos would have in the areas.

All three casinos filed appeals to the federal ruling, but developers of the Mandalay Bay (formerly Circus Circus) property withdrew their appeal, followed by the city of d'Iberville

In a bombshell announcement last May at the Southern Gaming Summit in Biloxi, Mandalay's President Glenn Schaeffer also announced the corporation was dropping its option to purchase 250 acres off the Kiln-deLisle exit in Harrison County, where its

Camille memorial urges us not to forget

Dedication takes place tomorrow at 5 p.m. in Biloxi hirty-two years later. people on the Mississippi Gulf Coast are still talking about Hurricane: Camille. But even as devastating as the storm was to the area, time and distance tend to dim the memory of just how powerful a hurricane can be. And to many newcomers on the coast, the fury of Camille may seem little more than a story that some oldtimers tell. The men and women on the Hurricane Camille Memorial Committee want to make sure that people remember that the danger involved in such a storm is as real today as it was when Camille hit the coast on Aug. 17, 1969, bringing widespread death and destruction to Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties.

A memorial to the storm and to all those who lost their lives to its fury will be unveiled this Friday in Biloxi at the Church of the Redeemer at 610 East Beach Blvd. A black granite memorial wall listing the 131 dead and 41 missing Mississipians surrounds a mosaic mural created by Bay St. Louis artist Elizabeth Veglia. The structure also incorporates a fountain and the old bell tower of the church, a symbol of hope to many, who could hear its bell ringing through the frightful night of the storm. Julia Cook Guice of Biloxi is heading up the committee. At the time the storm hit, she was the Civil Defense Director in Biloxi and her husband Wade was the CD Director in Harrison County. She remembers the storm well.

"We were in the office working and we staved there for over a week - here was a lot to be done," Guice said. "The real fury of the storm was brought home to me when I saw the wind lifting the huge spans of the Ocean Springs/Biloxi Bridge. It was closed for weeks."

What made the recovery from the storm so hard was the widespread destruction, said Guice. In a small-scale disaster such as someone's house burning down, the rest of the community is still intact and can offer help. After Camille, there was nowhere to go for help.

"We were all touched by the storm and unable to help each other," she said. "We realized that we didn't even have containers to put fresh water in, everything was gone."

Bay St. Louis-resident and committee member Susan Seal weathered the storm at her grandmother's home in Biloxi. She had gone there to evacuate her parents and her grandmother, but they had weathered the 1947 storm and thought that nothing could be that bad. They refused to leave.

"So I felt like I should stay with them," said Seal. "The

Their raised house sat on a bluff, ironically, just two doors down from the site of the memorial, the bottom floor 32 feet above sea level, said Seal. Even so, water seeped into the house.

The house next door washed away, she said, and a large shrimp boat lodged in the yard against a tree.

"The tree kept it from floating into our house," she said. "The steps to the house washed away. We waited for two days 'til the fire department came and rescued us. There were snakes and wild boars everywhere, trying to escape the water, I guess."

Her mother and father's house in Long Beach had only two walls standing after the storm. The house on Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis where Seal lives now belonged to her husband's parents. It stands on a 30-ft. bluff. There was no water in the house, said Seal, but water covered the yard. The wind blew an oak tree through windows into one of the rooms.

Elizabeth Veglia lived in Pass Christian at the time of the storm. She decided to evacuate, and when she returned home, all that was left of her beach-front condominium was the foundation. She searched for a block and a half or so around the property, she said, and found her barbecue pit with one leg missing and a couple of pictures – all that was left of her life up until then.

"Everything was gone," said Veglia. "There was nowhere to work. I stayed for awhile with my grandmother in New Orleans, then decided to go to Tennessee where I had some friends. Later I worked for a while in Houston, and then in El Paso, and finally decided to come back here and try to pick up the pieces."

Veglia spent about a year working on the mural in her

AMR presents county emergency vehicle

BY ED LEPOMA Staff Writer

Hancock County now has an emergency vehicle to serve as a command post in time of crisis, courtesy of American Medical Response.

Sheriff Steve Garber was officially presented the keys to the vehicle Wednesday in ceremonies in front of the Hancock County Justice Facility.

The recent crash of a private plane into a house in Waveland, along with a huge fire at a Waveland mini-storage facility pointed out the need for the sheriff's department to man a mobile command post at the scene of future emergencies, officials said: During both emergencies, AMR sent its mobile command post from its Gulfport headquarters to assist in opera-

Mills wrote. He directed West not to allow free product to drain onto the ground, to clean up any residual spills or other contaminated soils, not to allow rinse water to be directly discharged without a permit, and to properly dispose of wastes materials in a proper landfill.

"Be advised, that there are substantial penalties for violation of state environmental regulations," Mills warned.

During the inspection in June, West provided MDEQ with a manifest, showing what is stored on his site. He listed 20, 275-gallon containers of drilling mud; 1,000, 55-gallon drums; 2,000, 15-gallon containers; 2,000, five-gallon containers and five large tack tanks.

Besides the alleged pollution problem, the Ainsworth contend storage of the drums decreases nearby property values, and should not be allowed in an area that is mainly zone agricultural and residential. However, West contends he was recycling the drums before zoning went into effect in Hancock County in 1996.

The Ainsworths also ques-

state license to sell beer, and Welcome bikers" was attracting undesirables. West told supervisors he first opened a grocery store facing Hwy. 603, then obtained a liquor license. He said right now the Twist & Shout is a bar selling beer, but he intends to also open a grill. West said he checked with the state and the county, and was told he didn't need any other permits to operate.

Used Cars To Be Sold For $55.00

PICAYUNE, MS

Chris Carrubba, general manager for HOPKINS AUTO WORLD plans to hold a special used car and truck event on Friday, August 17th and Saturday, August 18th with used cars and trucks starting at fifty-five dollars and up. According to Mr. Carrubba, record sales from the last few months has resulted in an overload of trade-ins and lease returns forcing HOPKINS AUTO WORLD to reduce their used car inventory. During this fifty-five dollar sale every car and truck will be sold for hundreds to thousands below the original price.

said, "Our Carrubba customers should find these prices as low as wholesale auctions in many cases."

Here, every car and truck is on sale. It's the perfect opportunity to get a good quality used car at the lowest price possible. On Friday, all cars and trucks will be on display at 5:00 pm, with the sale starting at 6:00 pm. Saturday, they will be on display at 9:00 am and the sale starting at 10:00 am. The location of the sale is on the site of HOPKINS AUTO

WORLD, at Hwy. 43 and 1-59 (behind WalMart). At the time the sale begins, who ever is sitting behind the wheel when the prices are slashed on the windshield will be given first opportunity to purchase the vehicles at the sale

This innovative approach to selling used vehicles will make it easy and quick for anyone to acquire a used car or truck at very low prices at no hassles.

Wholesale buyers will be present to take trade-ins during this sale. We also have bank representatives who will help buyers arrange low-cost financing. We've got over 3 million dollars in inventory. Our total inventory will be close to 300 new and used cars and tucks. We want to remind every one that this is a two day sale only. When our inventory has been reduced, we will return to normal operations. Any questions may be directed to 601-798-7575 at HOPKINS AUTO WORLD. Sale Dates; Friday, August 17th, Open 5 p.m. starts at 6 pm. and Saturday, August 18, Open 9 am. starts at 10 a.m.. PAID AVERTISING

SPORTS

SAM'S Club to host benefit golf tournament for Women's Ctr.

SAM'S Club in Gulfport is sponsoring the first SAM'S Club Charity Golf Tournament, benefiting the Gulf Coast Women's Center Nonviolence, on Sept. 14 at the Great Southern Golf Course in Gulfport.

The four-person scramble will tee off at 1 p.m. with registration at 10:30 a.m. and lunch from 11:30 a.m. until 12:45 p.m. The tournament will be a shotgun start. Prizes will be awarded for a hole in one on hole 3, longest drive on hole 8 and closest to pin on holes 7 and 14.

Players will be allowed to buy mulligans or do-overs, one for the first nine holes and a second for the back nine holes. A shrimp boil reception and awards presentation will be at 5:30 p.m.

Three levels of participation are available. The gold level, which is a $500 donation of more, allows a company or individual to become a corporate sponsor of the tournament.

Included in this is play for four players, a hole sponsorship, sponsor recognition at the event, recognition on all golf tournament publicity and onsite corporate advertisements.

At the silver level, the cost is a $100 donation, which allows a company or individual to become a hole sponsor. A sign with the company's or individual's name will be place at either the tee or the green.

The bronze level is a $75 donation per player, which entitles the player to 18 holes of golf, meals and giveaways.

The Gulf Coast Women's Center for Nonviolence is a non-profit organization dedicated to eradication of domestic violence. Covering the six counties of south Mississippi, the center is the oldest and most comprehensive domestic violence program in the state.

Services at the center include a 24-hour crisis line, temporary housing for victims of domestic violence and their children, counseling, court advocacy, educational programs in the six counties, a civil legal clinic, a sexual assault program, domestic violence intervention program and a therapeutic preschool for children who have experienced domestic violence.

Tournament chairman is Cheryl Sangwin of SAM'S. Her co-chairman is Andrea Yeager, domestic violence intervention program coordinator and educator for the center.

SAM'S Club sponsors a Volunteerism Always Pays program for its associates, where these employees work 15 hours a quarter at a non-profit agency. These employees receive $100 a quarter for their charity organization.

To play in the tournament, interested companies or persons should call Yeager at 868-9324 or by fax at 868-0233. All donations should be sent to Yeager at the Gulf Coast Center Women's Nonviolence, P.O. Box 333, Biloxi, MS 39533.

Hancock LEPC meeting Southern Regional Public Safety Institute Course Coordinator/Instructor Tom Bartlett was the special speaker last Thursday at the Hancock County Civil Defense Local Emergency Planning Committee's (LEPC) regular meeting. Bartlett addressed the importance of proper training for Critical Incident Prepardness/Emergency Response Programs for LEPC members. Those in photo, from right, include Bartlett, Steve Landry, Hancock County Port & Harbor; and David Garcia, Waveland fire chief: Lynette Carbon, Civil Defense director, introduced Bartlett. Because of the significant amount of rail cargo crossing the Coast each day, Bartlett announced there would be a Railroad Tactical Accident Control First Responder Program exercise Oct. 3, 4 and 5 in Long Beach for LEPC members. The next regular meeting of the Hancock LEPC was set for Thursday, Nov. 8, 10 a.m. at the CD office.

Health Department warns residents to avoid, prevent mosquito-borne diseases

With evidence of two mosquito-borne diseases affecting both humans and horses in Mississippi, State Health Officer Dr. Ed Thompson urges Mississippians to avoid mosquito bites.

The warning comes on the identification of probable Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) in at least three horses in George County.

Ten cases of EEE in horses have been confirmed in Alabama, at least one close to the Mississippi border, and one case of EEE confirmed in a horse in Bienville Parish, La.

Equine Encephalitis can also affect humans; so far, no human case of EEE has been identified in

"Mosquitoes anywhere and everywhere, occasional convulsion, coma, especially at this time of year and with the environmental Thompson said. "Historically in Mississippi, EEE cases normally occur in late July into the early fall."

Eastern Equine Encephalitis is a viral disease of birds, which is sometimes transmitted to both horses and humans by certain species of mosquitoes. EEE generally affects rural areas more than towns and cities.

The disease is not directly transmitted from person to be disorientation, and death.

"The species of mosquitoes conditions we have now," Dr. that carries EEE breeds in swamp and marshy areas. Human-to-human and horsetransmission to-human apparently does not occur," said Thompson.

> "Eastern Encephalitis can produce severe illness in humans and can even be fatal," he added. "We have no effective treatment. Prevention is all we > Confirmatory testing at the State Department of Health's laboratory in Jackson and at the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Fort Collins, Colorado, identified the illness as LaCrosse (LAC) encephalitis. Both children are recovering.

> A third child from the George County area is suspect for LAC encephalitis; CDC is testing for confirmation. Most cases of LAC encephalitis occur in children less than 16 years

Like EEE, LAC encephalitis is a virus transmitted to humans through the bite of an infected mosquito. LaCrosse encephalitis is caused by a Person-to-person transmission

All mosquitoes are not infected. Most people who get the virus have no symptom or sign of illness. An individual with LAC encephalitis might have fever, headache, nausea, vomiting, or drowsiness. Illness in young children can lead to seizures, coma, and paralysis. LAC encephalitis generally affects rural areas more than towns or cities. The normal cycle of the virus that causes LAC encephalitis occurs between mosquitoes and small mammals, but under certain conditions the virus can be transmitted to humans by certain species of mosquitoes.

The State Department of Health suggests measures for Mississippians to avoid mosquito bites:

 Avoid mosquito-prone areas, especially at dawn and dusk, when the mosquitoes are most active.

• Wear protective clothing, such as long sleeves and long pants, when going into mosquito-prone areas.

• Use insect repellent on exposed body parts (use only according to label directions).

• Get rid of any open, containers of water around the house such as old tires and paint cans where mosquitoes

Heavy metals symposium warns residents to beware toxic material

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER Staff Writer

Toxic metal poisoning was the subject of a three-day symposium at the Imperial Palace Casino in Biloxi last weekend. The symposium featured expert speakers on the subject, and was geared for medical profession, concentrating on symptoms, sources, testing and treatment. The conference was organized by Wilson Ellis, director of IV Medical in Long Beach, where Ellis said doctors are treating more than 2,000 patients for toxic metal poisoning with chelation therapy. At least 600 patients are from the Mississippi Gulf Coast, Ellis

Among other topics, speakers stressed the importance of informing the general public of dangers involved in amalgam fillings in the teeth, a cumulative problem rather the silver or gray fillings. These fillings are made of several metals, 50 percent of which is mercury; copper, tin, silver and a trace of zinc make up the remainder of the ingredients, said Chair of Chemistry at the University of Kentucky Boyd Haley, Ph.D..

Haley stressed to attending physicians that patients coming in for treatment of neurological symptoms should be checked for these fillings and advised of their danger. person at risk for Alzheimer's Disease should have amalgam fillings in their mouth, said Haley, because the mercury vapors released by these fillings, or mercury poisoning in general, are a strong suspect as one of the causes for the onset of the

Haley backed up his words with samples of numerous slides from his research comparing healthy brain cells with cells from AD brains and cells from brains with exposure to mercury, showing similar damage in the latter two types. Haley said that the mercury caused damage to the neurons in the brain.

Dr. Ted Rozema, an expert on the subject of toxic metal poisoning from North Carolina, lectured on the topic on Saturday.

"Toxic metal poisoning is often than an acute one," Rozema. For instance, he said, lead levels are only detectable by a blood test for about 28 days after exposure. After that, Rozema said, the poison will move on to be deposited in the bones or kidneys. Mercury eventually loves to settle in two areas, the kidneys and the brain, he said.

All toxic metals tend to migrate and settle in one or more parts of the body, he said. "Over a lifetime, this can have a very cumulative effect, which overlooked often

Character actress Kathleen Mohr as "Mother Goose" at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center Saturday, Aug. 25 at 11 a.m.

'Mother Goose' visits Lynn Meadows Discovery Center

Character actress Kathleen participation. Mohr of One Mohr Productions in Milwaukee will perform as Discovery Center at 897-6039. "Mother Goose" Saturday, Aug. 25 at 11 a.m. at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center.

Mohr is a one-woman theater troupe specializing in children's theater and storytelling.

"Children's museums provide a perfect setting for my performances," says Mohr, "because imagination, spontaneity and creativity are the focus in the museum experience.'

Mother Goose will entertain with traditional rhymes, riddles and songs, peppered with a few wise sayings. Her sidekick, Gertrude the Goose, is along for the ride in a basket full of props to make sure there's lots of audience

A word from the president ...

BY CHARLEY "DUSTY" RHODES

Chamber President Approaching the end of my second term as president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, I can honestly say that I have seen first hand the diligent and committed efforts of our Chamber membership. These efforts touch all aspects and realms of business and community growth. These efforts have served to provide the tools and resources that are essential to our county at a time of growth.

Our partnerships with quality organizations have given us many opportunities to flourish, and the dedication of our membership has enabled us to set the stage and pave the way for sound economic growth.

ties and planning for a sound "economic environment" are foremost in our goals.

Business leaders note that quality of life is one of the top three factors that businesses consider when relocating. The Chamber notes that if Hancock County can provide a place ed and facilitated plans for where people have a desire sound smart growth. Our to live, it can be that much ing our businesses and in recruiting new businesses.

The staff, board and membership are challenged by the proposition of creating that quality of life for family and business. Every issue that ultimately affects our quality of life and sound business environment is incorporated into the Chamber's goals and we are proud of the many accomplishments that truly sum up the positive direction our county is taking. The Chamber is blessed to have an active board, staff and membership who collaboratively strive to pave the way for sound economic growth.

I applaud our membership and urge their continued commitment to participate in good sound business growth for our county. Join the Chamber, be part of our success. It will be a great experience that will be fulfilling and beneficial for you and your business.

Chamber helps Hancock thrive

BY COLLEEN MORAN Chamber Director

When you think of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, many things come to mind.

Our Chamber prides itself on being a well rounded organization one that incorporates the private citizens, individual entrepreneurs, the small business and moderate business, and many large corporate partners.

As our county expands, so do our Chamber goals and membership. Our membership approaches 700 members that are Hancock County based, for the most part. These members support and commit to the betterment of the entire business environment of our precious coun-

Our members build a sense of pride, protect and develop the best interests of the county in order to attract new business by ensuring an improved and consistent quality of life.

the various committees that serve on in a voluntary basis to accomplish the many goals set every year.

Our Beautification Committee works to instill a sense of pride in our community by sponsoring events and promotions that draw attention to the importance of litter prevention and beautification.

Our

Community Development Committee stresses the importance of planning and preparing for growth by expanding infrastructure, being aware of plan "smartly" for Hancock changing federal and state other significant goals.

Education Our Committee puts first and foremost its commitment to the chamber's scholarship efforts and to work well with and provide partnerships to our school systems.

Our Member Services Committee provides the Chamber membership with support and networking events that ensure success to Chamber members in their business pursuits.

This year, our board saw a need for a group to look at business retention and expansion and formed a special Corps Group whose mission was to draft a program that will address business needs accordingly. It has been our pleasure to work with the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission to incorporate industrial needs into the program as well, and we thank them for the support. Our committees are highly effective and motivated community and business leaders, and I thank them for their dedication.

Thrive

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce began its "smart growth program" over two years ago and has made strides in developing proactive sound growth practices for our rapidly expanding county and business community. We have been blessed to have associations and partnerships with wonderful organizations such as the Gulf of Mexico Program, Project Impact and the Hancock County Civil  $\mathbf{Defense}$ Office, Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, the Mississippi Development Authority, the Hancock County Tourism and Development Bureau, many state and federal agencies and best of all, a commitment by our elected officials and members of our community to work with us to provide quality smart growth for Hancock County.

I look forward to many years of working together!

ings without adopting any together in the arena of additional regulatory actions."

to think our goal will be to to realize two objectives of have water in the mouth of the Chamber; the developthe Bay St. Louis and the ment of a gateway for Pearl River that is clean enough to once again host the harvesting of oysters," said Moran. This year the Chamber participated with partners in Hancock County to on several projects that supported this goal. The Chamber was invited to participate in a countywide wastewater plan for Hancock County sponsored by the Board of Supervisors and facilitated by the U.S. Environment Protection Agency Gulf of Mexico Program.

The Chamber was also asked by the Board of Supervisors to participate in the development of a series of projects for Coastal Impact Assistance Program funding.

"We were very pleased and very proud to be a partner in these two efforts," said Moran. "Both projects sought to develop consensus among the different organizations and agencies within Hancock County. Together we defined a vision, and through this process initiated dialog to realize the vision. We were able to improved water quality."

This year the Chamber "Ultimately, I would like also took important steps Hancock County and the development of conservation and greenway plan for Hancock County.

"Thanks to partnerships with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, the Gulf Coast Community Foundation, Mississippi Arts Commission and the Mississippi Forestry Commission, we were able to hire designers to develop plans and specifications for gateways into Hancock County. The Chamber applied for Coastal Impact Assistance Program funding to work in cooperation with the Board of Supervisors and the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland to develop a Greenways Plan. "The Community Development Committee of the Chamber defined this action as an important element of their Smart Growth Strategic Plan.

Conservation

"Greenways and conservation areas can serve many functions - most of which will enhance the livability and the quality of life in Hancock County. We share resources and capaci- want to work with the local ty so that we move forward governments, state governmental agencies and nonprofit organizations to develop a series of greenways that serve functions that benefit us," said Moran.

Greenways and conservation areas can contribute to the well-being of a community by assisting in the reduction of flooding, increasing recreational opportunities, buffering uncomplimentary land uses, and providing habitat for animals and plants.

Studies have shown the developments immediately adjacent to greenways and conservation areas have increased value. "This past year, a partnership between the Hancock County Chamber, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock County Water and Sewer District received two awards for the implementation of the Wastewater Plan Collection Southern Hancock County.

"We learned that partnerships are important to get things done and that dialog is key to keep the process on track. We also learned that we must work together and in partnership to achieve great things, small things, and sometimes to avoid the train wrecks," said Moran. "We want to continue to be part of great things."
